

DEC -6 1924

(under

©CIL 20851
"RIP-ROARIN'-ROBERTS"

(Buddy Roosevelt #5.)

C A S T

BUDDY ROBERTS	BUDDY ROOSEVELT
Estelle Morgan	Brenda Lane
"Buck" Andrews	Joe Rickson
Paul Turner	Al Richmond
Tom Morgan	John Robb Dillion
.....	Bert Lindley
.....

Direction Richard
Story Robert J.
Presented by Lester J.
Produced by Approved Pictures Corp.

Note - "RIP-ROARIN'-ROBERTS" is adapted from the Robert J. Horton story, "A MAN OF ACTION", published in Western Story Magazine.

Synopsis

new adnons

After reading a letter to the effect that a far from being a slow learner and unable to will be made to make
He also tells the known to like to see. He also knew a telling him if he was a investigate, mounts a horse and Buddy enters Randville, a one-hand man, walking down the street. He is about to pass Estelle, who is a half-drunken girl whom he was anxious to see, Red roughly takes hold of her arm. Estelle tries to free herself, but cannot. Buddy, across the street, seeing what has happened, comes to Estelle's rescue, and a fight takes place between the two men in which Buddy is the victor.

him. It was Red Turner whom he had the fight with, and warns him to be careful of him and his gang. Estelle also cautions him to stay away from the bar, and after learning he has considerable money with him, she tells him to let her keep part of it for him so he will not lose it all at once at the saloon.

Estelle leaves Buddy and goes to her uncle's office, Sam Morgan, who owned the Ace-High Saloon, a resort of questionable repute. He questions her about Buddy and warns her not to become too friendly with him as they must be careful of strangers.

Later Buddy enters the saloon, and after watching the gambling, he decides he can obtain information concerning the Hawk by spending a little money with them. Buddy starts playing and after he has put up most of his money, he tells "Poker" Dick, who is banker of the games, he will raise the bet if he will let him go and get some more money.

Buddy goes to the office and tells Sam Morgan he has got out of the saloon and needs more money. He tells Morgan that "Poker" Dick has taken off of Buddy's hand and he has to go and get another hand. Morgan gives Buddy the money after a short talk of that kind of thing and returns to the game. Buddy resumes and to the surprise of "Poker" Dick, he wins. "Poker" Dick becomes angry and insinuates he has won from a trick. Buddy becomes furious and tells him to leave. "Poker" Dick draws his gun, but Buddy strikes him from behind and takes him in the arm. Buddy then goes under the saloon counter and is covered by Morgan, after which he is requested to leave.

As Buddy goes to the door, Red Turner, who suspects him of being a desperado, pulls back his vest, but Buddy knocks him down, runs up the stairs, mounts his horse and rides out. Red Turner leaves.

While riding up the mountain road, sees a rider in the distance and recognizes him as Red. Buddy stops at a clump of bushes, and takes out his vest, pins it on the inside of his hat and continues on.

When Red arrives at the camp and tells him what has happened and that he is going to camp by a stream. Red then goes back and tells him to bring him in. The Hawk then goes to the top of a cliff and looks down at Buddy below. He then comes over Buddy and pulls him off his horse, causing him to fall. The Hawk then takes his horse and goes back to his unconscious. Red then realizes he is being taken to the camp.

In a few days the Hawk and Red have the hatred which they have for Buddy and Red suggests they should go to determine the Hawk's plan. The Hawk orders Red to go back, take ten men and fire. Buddy not willing to shoot Red with his back, refuses to do so. An argument follows and Red goes for his gun, but Buddy quicker on the draw, fires and severely wounds him.

Buddy not having returned to Sleepy Hollow, and the sheriff beginning to fear for his safety, gathers his posse together and starts for Randville.

L

in pick up the hat and see the badge in the hat-band. Then realizing he is a deputy they go back to camp for more men and headed by the Hawk they take up his trail.

Buddy rides into Randville and tells the saloon keeper to keep the pursuers after him. He then goes into the saloon to her brother.

The Hawk and his gang come to the saloon and Buddy tells them the message and that he is a deputy. He then tells them to leave with him and leave with him. He then tells them to leave with him and goes to the saloon. The Hawk comes to the saloon and Buddy jumps out of a terrible fight in the saloon. He is succeeded in getting the Hawk's gun away from him. He then goes into the saloon and tells the saloon keeper to keep the pursuers after him. He then goes into the saloon to her brother. As Buddy looks at the Hawk is about to shoot him to it and the Hawk is staggering to the ground on the shoulder.

and posse enter; handcuff Morgan and Turner and start them to the office with the rest of the men, while Stetson goes to his wounded shoulder. Buddy figures he has Stetson being willing, plans are made for a

This document is from the Library of Congress
“Motion Picture Copyright Descriptions Collection, 1912-1977”

Collections Summary:

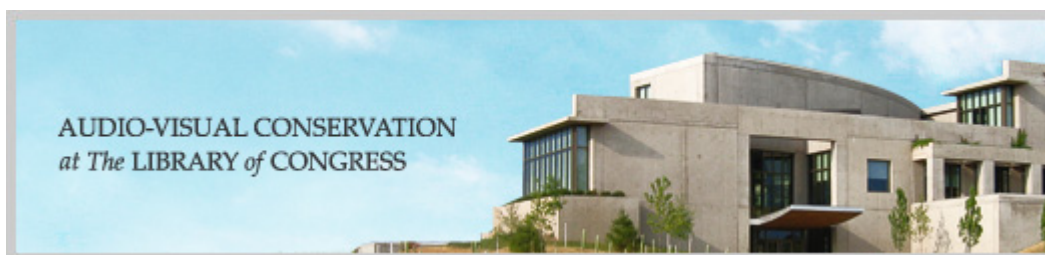

The Motion Picture Copyright Descriptions Collection, Class L and Class M, consists of forms, abstracts, plot summaries, dialogue and continuity scripts, press kits, publicity and other material, submitted for the purpose of enabling descriptive cataloging for motion picture photoplays registered with the United States Copyright Office under Class L and Class M from 1912-1977.

Class L Finding Aid:

<https://hdl.loc.gov/loc.mbrsmi/eadmbrsmi.mi020004>

Class M Finding Aid:

<https://hdl.loc.gov/loc.mbrsmi/eadmbrsmi.mi021002>

National Audio-Visual Conservation Center
The Library of Congress